

GAS PLANT TO BE TWICE SIZE

El Paso Gas Co. to Spend $100,000 on Investment in East El Paso.

The El Paso Gas company has made all necessary plans for increasing the capacity of its plant 100 percent. It has taxed the best efforts of the company to keep up with the growth of El Paso, but by doubling its capacity the company hopes to get one lap ahead and maintain the lead, officials of the corporation said.

W. W. Turner, president of the Gas company, which asked Saturday if the grounds recently purchased in East El Paso by the company was to be used in the building of a greater gas works, said:

Big Tank to Cost $100,000.
The land in East El Paso, for which the company paid $10,000, is to be used for a holding tank and accessories to cost $100,000. It is the intention of the company to add other units during the year, so that by next winter the present capacity of the plant will be doubled in all of its branches. I do not know just what this will cost, nor has any special appropriation been set aside for it. The work will be pushed and paid for as it progresses.

Mr. Turner said that the order for the big steel holding tank has already been placed. During the past winter, Mr. Turner said, the gas company was hampered at times by a coal shortage and to obviate any more shortages the company will increase its coal storage capacity and lay in during the summer a supply of coal sufficient for all purposes.

INVESTMENT COMPANY MAY BUY GAS COMPANY CORNER

The El Paso Investment company has purchased from Robert L. Dorland lots fronting 271 feet on Texas street and 254 feet along the railroad tracks of block 46, Franklin Heights addition. The consideration is private, but the transaction is said to involve approximately $50,000.

The El Paso Investment company is reported to be negotiating for the purchase of the property of the El Paso Gas company at 425 North Oregon. This deal would involve between $35,000 and $50,000, it is said. Seven years ago the Knights of Pythias were offered this property for $25,000, a report said.

Now I would suggest that if the old timers and school teachers cannot answer the question, that the high school pupils be invited to send in answers."

While I feel confident I can name the first citizen of the United States to pass through this town, yet the high school pupils might be able to prove that I am wrong and for that reason I would like to read their answers to the question."
